

Parenting 6th to 12th Grade

South Lake Church, February 29, 2020

Barry & Debbie Mattox

There are no perfect parents!!

And families are always messy.

Even with glaring parenting errors,
God still raised up men and women to make a difference.

There has only been one perfect parent: God himself.
We get a picture of God, the loving father, in the Parable of the Prodigal Son.

God is always refining His People.
We have God's Word, God's Church, God's Spirit, and God Himself to help us.

I just want them to be happy

?

Have the Right Goals

“Maximize happiness” is not the right goal !

The overall goal is love.

- Love God ... love your neighbor. Matthew 22:37-40
- The goal of this command is love, which comes from a pure heart and a good conscience and a sincere faith. 1 Timothy 1:5

We start out self-centered and needy, and through others loving and training us first, our character is developed so that we learn to love.

“Maximize happiness” is not the right goal !

... He also predestined to be conformed to the image of his Son ... Romans 8:29

Our goal is for our children to fall in love with God and to strive to be like Jesus. But how do we do this?

Lay a Sturdy Foundation

1. Work on your own relationship with God
2. Work on your marriage (and accepting your situation)
3. Parents have good supportive friendships
4. Nurture a strong relationship with your children
5. Reinforce character (self-control, respect, cooperation)
6. Teach them to identify and embrace truth
7. Model everything you are training in your children!

Instead of Compensating, Be Unified on the Right Principles

Reckless ← Responsible → Over-Protective

Harsh, Rigid ← Respectful, Firm → Sentimental Softy

Uninvolved ← Appropriate Relationship → Overly Attentive

Do two walk together unless they have agreed to do so? Amos 3:3

God Has Wired Us to Connect

- Parents experience instant, strong attachment to a child at birth, with unconditional love.
- Babies attach to their parents out of need for food, protection, and emotional connection.
- For thousands of years, children have learned the basics through this strong attachment all the way to maturity.

Parental Attachment

- Parents are committed
- Children need and crave the attachment
- Provides children with unconditional love, protection, acceptance, security, provision
- Attachment gives parents a powerful ability to teach and mature their children

Parental Attachment provides the environment for character and spiritual growth.

Luke 2:51-52 Then Jesus returned to Nazareth with his parents and was obedient to them. . . . And Jesus grew in wisdom and stature, and in favor with God and men.

Parental Attachment Provides Maturity

Children learn, almost automatically:

- Language
- Hygiene
- Manners, social cues
- Respect for others
- Obedience to authority
- What a marriage looks like
- What dependence on God looks like
- Life skills

The first objective is to connect with your children.
If you fail to connect, you cannot teach or correct effectively.

Satan's Plan to Distract Us

Can't pay the bills
The boss is irritated
Wife is irritated
No time with God
Need a vacation!

I'm tired
House is a mess
Kids are out of control!
When's the last time
we went on a date?

Distracted Parents

If you don't control it, technology can keep us from connecting.

Peer Attachment

- Children crave attachment
- Occurs when Parent Attachment is not strong enough
- Peers are not equipped to give unconditional love, acceptance, security, intimacy
- Child takes cues for dress, language, social practices, morals, and values from peers
- Results: insecure, emotionally flat, short-term rather than long-term goals

Do not be misled: “Bad company corrupts good character.” - 1 Corinthians 15:33

Peer Attachment Feels Good at First

- They're having fun
- Maybe they will be more well rounded
- They are forming friendships
- They're learning how to get along with other kids
- It will help their socialization
- Gives the parent a break !

Parental Attachment Meets Needs

The parent-child attachment meets his needs for security, acceptance, protection, support, instruction, and love.

The Problem of Peer Attachment

If parent-child attachment is damaged or neglected, the child seeks to meet his needs for security, acceptance, and love by attaching to his peers as an alternative to (not in addition to) his parental attachment.

~~Y (Parent)
Child~~

Child's Peers

Child

Teasing, bullying, put-downs
Pressure to conform
Insecurity (hoping for acceptance)
Short-term goals
Reckless behavior
The culture of the world
Parents are "un-cool"

What Does Peer Attachment Look Like?

- Disconnects from parents (and extensions)
- Bored when not with peers. Emotionally “flat”
- Not interested in family activities
- Video games, texting, TV consume time at home
- School is not for learning, but to be with peers
- Hard to have a conversation with him
- Minimal interaction with parents, aloof
- Irritable, discontent, disrespectful (rolls his eyes)
- May be overtly defiant to parents
- Very difficult to get him to be responsible, do homework, etc.
- Peers define how he dresses, what he listens to, what’s cool, what grades are OK, his moral standards

The Solution: Build an Enduring Attachment

- Parents are equipped, peers are not!
- Your attachment is your main tool:
 - to teach
 - to correct
 - to pass on faith and values
- Decide it's worth whatever it takes
- Be intentional

Strengthen the Connection

- Intimacy: sharing deep feelings, being emotionally vulnerable
Note: Peer relationships (not vulnerable) cannot compete
- Provide structure for intimacy: something you do regularly, like taking walks, walking the dog, nighttime rituals
- Teach your kids about sex, starting early (use the books)
- Talk about everything, especially what kids are interested in
- Have meals together
- Take family vacations
- Create family traditions
- Family devotionals (simple, short)
- Expand the Parent-Child Attachment to your friends and your child's teachers
- Talk about your relationship
- Keep the emotional tank full

Sharing Your Faith Builds the Relationship

- Talk about the situations your kids are encountering
- Share how God's word is changing you
- Talk about God: creator, powerful, loving, cares about you
- Pray with them and let them catch you praying
- The anchor

We have this hope as an anchor for the soul, firm and secure. - Hebrews 6:19

Extend Your Parental Attachment

+

+

Interaction with an adult can have a greater impact on a child than church activities.

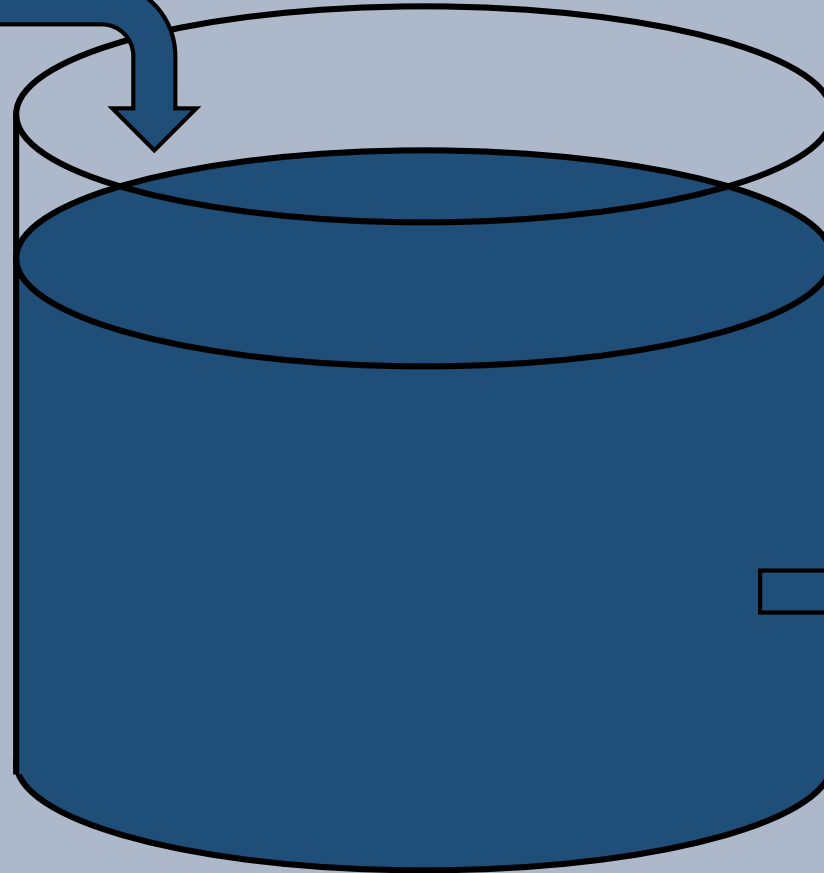

CONTROL-Click here to hear talk about encouraging the connections with adults. (If you just Click, you'll lose your place.)

Monitor the Emotional Tank and Keep It Filled

- Loving Eye Contact
- Physical Affection
- Focused Attention

Disappointments teasing, bullying harshness, etc.

The Emotional Tank

- Whiney
- Hard to please
- Disobedient
- Unmotivated
- Depressed
- Angry
- Uncooperative
- Disrespectful

- Secure
- Cooperative
- Able to work through disappointments
- Generally content
- Respectful of others
- More able to think about others needs

God's One Command for Children

Children, obey your parents in the Lord, for this is right. “Honor your father and mother” — which is the first commandment with a promise — “so that it may go well with you and that you may enjoy long life on the earth.”

Ephesians 6:1-3

Obedience Motivated by Trust and Relationship Is the Foundation for Raising Children.

Avoid These Parental Traps :

- Giving warnings, counting to 3, etc.
 - Instead, get their attention the first time and expect obedience
- Bribing your child
 - “If you’ll be really good, we’ll get ice cream afterwards”
 - Growing in the character of obedience should be the reward in itself
- Giving in to your child because you want your child to like you
 - You are the parent. The child needs love and security, not someone he can manipulate.
- Talking too much
 - Kids want to know what you’re going to do, not what you’re going to say

Perhaps Parents' Biggest Mistake in Raising Young Children

Discipline

- Never in anger. Take time to pray and cool down if you need to.
- Be very clear and make sure your child understands the character that needs to be developed
- Discipline should have nothing to do with your embarrassment or personal loss or inconvenience.
- Express that discipline is out of love. Share ways that God has disciplined you.
- Instead of “you were bad,” let him/her know “You are better than that.”
- You may ask, “What do you think your consequence should be?”
- Reassure them of your love for them.

Possible Consequences

- Loss of privileges
- Extra chores
- Do not use loss of church activities
- Be careful about the time frame. (What will you use the next time?)

Descriptive Praise

As our children hear us complimenting their good qualities, they want to take on those qualities more and more.

Ephesians 6:4 Fathers, do not exasperate your children; instead, bring them up in the training and instruction of the Lord.

Hebrews 3:13 But encourage one another daily, as long as it is called “Today,” so that none of you may be hardened by sin’s deceitfulness.

How to get started using Descriptive Praise

1. Choose two annoying behaviors you'd like your child to improve, and write them down.
2. For each behavior, notice and Descriptively Praise every time your child does it right or just OK or even just a bit better than before.
3. Notice and mention when your child isn't doing the annoying behavior.
4. Avoid superlatives!
5. Make a goal of Descriptively Praising some aspect of the improved behavior at least ten times a day.

Teach Them Discern Truth

- Give them reasons and evidence for the truth of the Bible
- Ideas (and people) are almost never all bad or all good
- Teach “critical thinking” to separate truth from falsehood or half-truth
- Encourage them to challenge the hijacking of common words
- Teach them to discern the belief being portrayed by songs, books, TV programs, common practices and statements
- Give them evidence of the truth of the Bible and Bible principles
- Apply truth to examine moral issues, sexual practices, and pornography

Greatest Commandment

Love the Lord your God with all your heart and with all your soul and with all your mind. (Matt 22:37 also Mark 12:30 and Luke 10:27)

Loving God with all your mind means being able to give reasons and evidence for what you believe.

Always be prepared to give an answer to give the reason for the hope that you have. But do this with gentleness and respect . . . 1 Pet 3:15

Have nothing to do with the fruitless deeds of darkness, but rather expose them. Ephesians 5:11

We Must Teach Truth and Expose Lies about Sex

God's Truth

- God's created sex as a bond to create one flesh out of two
- The gift of sex is wonderful and should be protected
- Obeying God's instructions for purity prevents damage to his plan for sex, marriage, and family
- This bond is powerful and helps
 - to keep the marriage strong
 - to respect one another's differences
 - to be considerate of each other
 - to resolve conflicts
- God's plan provides for a stable family, with support for all

World's (Satan's) Lies

- Sex is harmless and can be used
 - to get someone to like you
 - to prove manhood/womanhood
 - to show off (bragging rights)
 - to be accepted by the crowd
 - to prove your sexual prowess
 - to relieve your sexual tension
 - just to have some fun or excitement
- Teenagers are able to decide when they are ready for sex
- Safe sex with multiple people is healthy and enriches your life

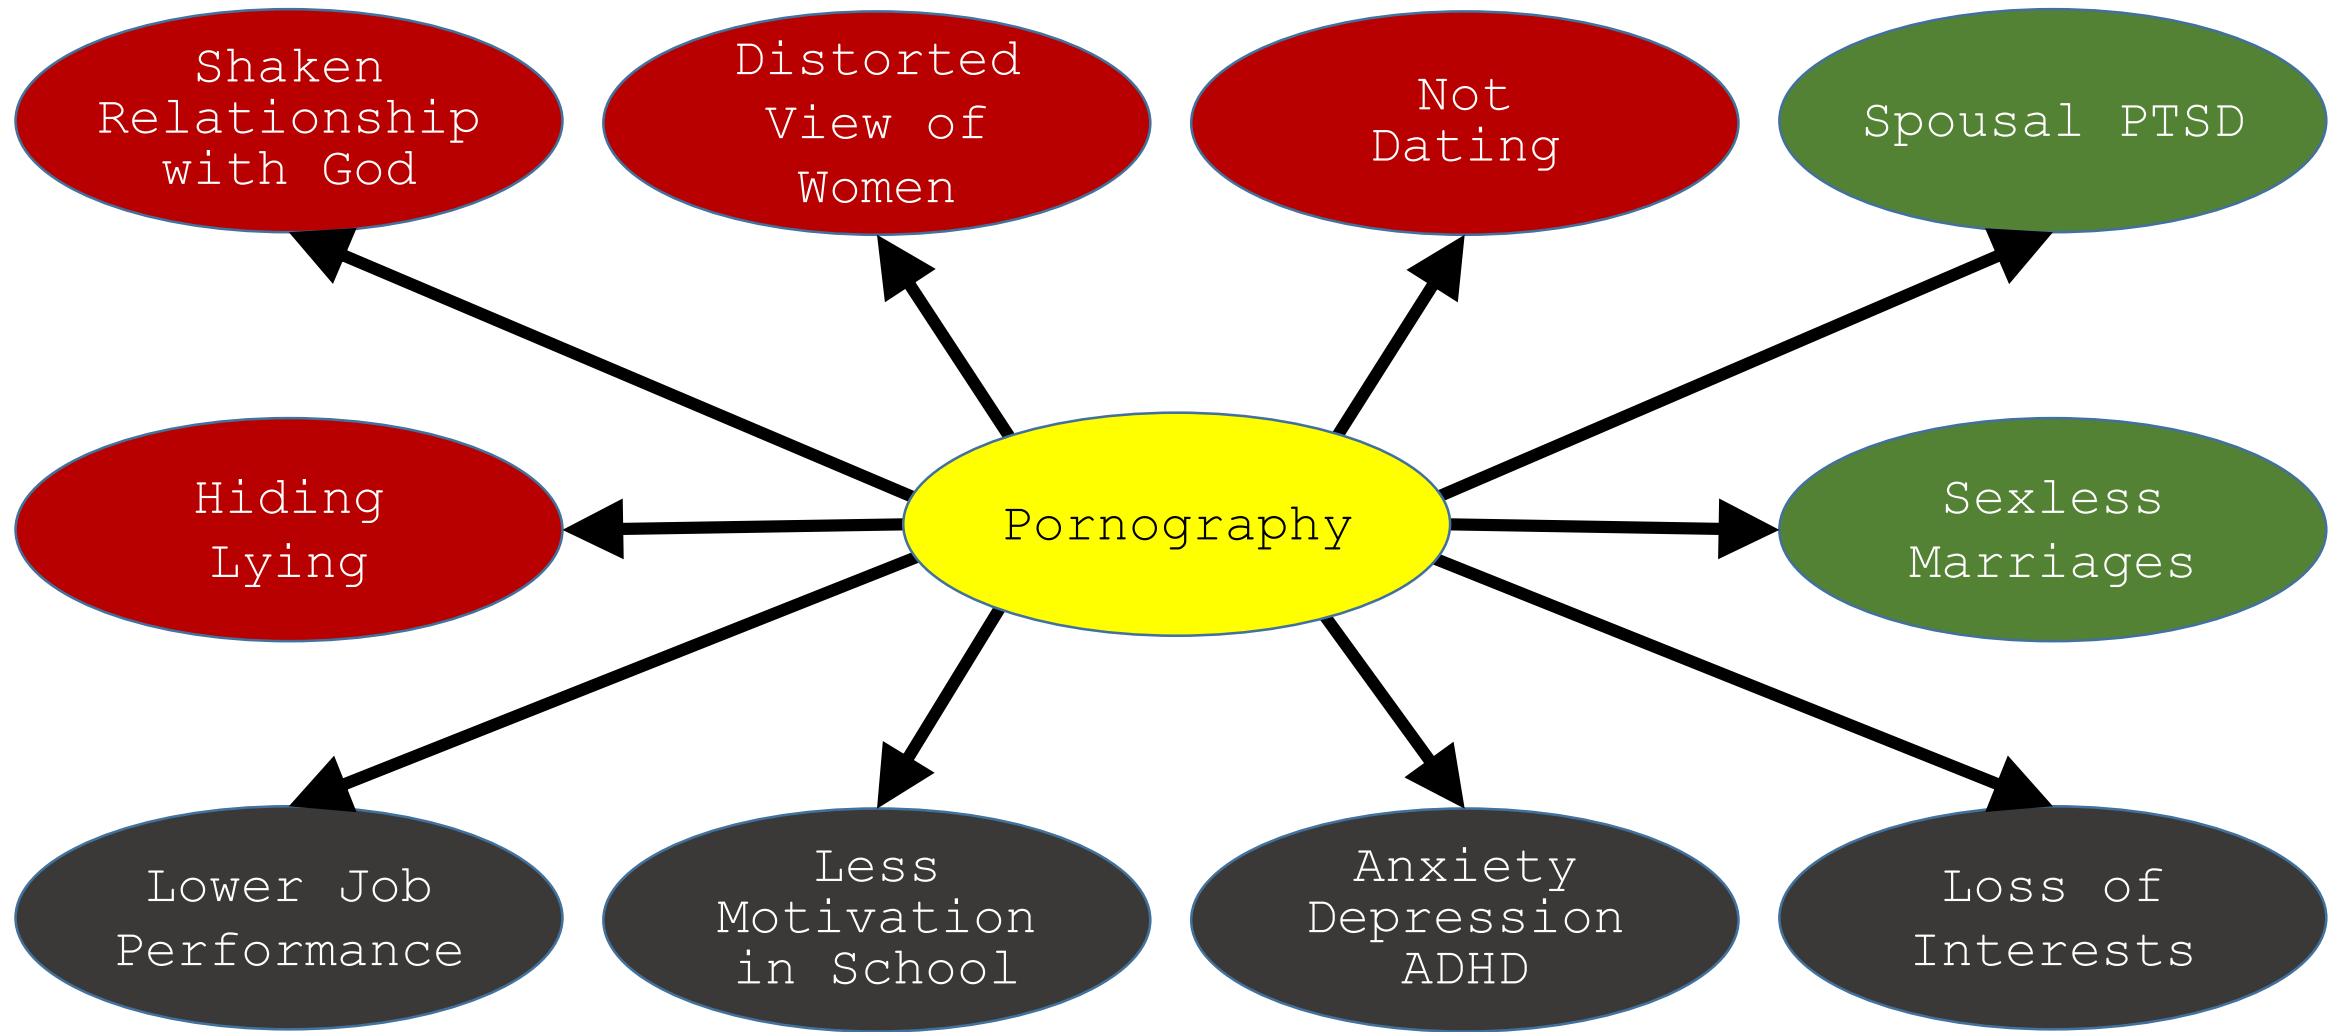

If you are not teaching your kids God's plan for sex, Satan will give them a plan designed to destroy them.

The thief comes only to steal and kill and destroy; I have come that they may have life, and have it to the full. John 10:10

If you neglect teaching your kids about sex, you leave them insecure, unprepared and vulnerable.

Divorce Rate

Pornography is now the #1 reason marriages end in divorce in America.

So What Do We Do about It?

- Know what's at stake
- God says to continually train your kids
- Importance of talking early
- Books that make it easy
- Regularly talk; not just “the” talk
- Building a spiritual family is essential
- Grace and truth in your parenting
- Your kids need a plan

Ages 3-5:
God's wonderful plan for family
The amazing body He gave me
Boys and girls are different

Ages 5-8:
Differences in your bodies
God's plan for marriage
Sexual intercourse in marriage

Ages 11-14:
Helping your child through physical and emotional challenges of puberty
Clarifying distortions of sex and the beauty of God's plan

Ages 8-11:
Reinforce God's plan for sex
Expose worldly ideas and the resulting destruction
Introduce STDs and unplanned teenage pregnancy

The most powerful educational tool on the planet is not a book,
speech,
video,
seminar,
or an on-line training module.

IT'S MODELING: Providing an observable pattern of behavior and doing it consistently.

You are the most influential model for your children. They see everything.

I want you to be like me:

Talk the way I talk.

Drive the way I drive.

Eat and drink the way I eat and drink.

Watch the kinds of shows I watch.

Handle your money like I handle my money.

Balance work & life like I balance work & life.

Handle your anger like I handle my anger.

Repent the way that I repent.

Love God and others the way I love.

Follow my example
as I follow the example of Christ.

1 Corinthians 11:1

Parents' Homework

Be prepared to describe . . .

1. One attitude or behavior that you are uncomfortable passing down to your children.
2. Your plan to change it.